Prerequisites

Polish as a foreign language for beginners in Polish. The course is designed for learning general Polish at the beginner level under the teacher's guidance. Knowledge of Polish is not required.

Course objective

The aim of the course is to learn the basics of communication in Polish while studying in Poland. The emphasis is on practical knowledge of the language and communication as well as learning about Polish culture.

Course-related learning outcomes

Knowledge:

Students slowly acquire knowledge about the pronunciation of the Polish language, the basic vocabulary of everyday life and the basics of Polish grammar. Grammar is limited to an indispensable minimum, while learning vocabulary and developing communicative competence are emphasized. In addition, students learn about Polish culture, customs and traditions.

Skills:

Students are able to communicate in simple everyday life situations. They know how to introduce themselves, ask a simple question and answer it. They know the basic terms of politeness, are able to express an uncomplicated request, wish, ask for help. They understand the content of topics related to typical issues at the university and dormitory.

They can easily talk about themselves, family, their interests and hobbies, their likes and dislikes, and their leisure activities. They know how to handle various situations when traveling around Poland.

Social competences:

Students are aware that communication in Polish is very useful during their stay in Poland. They also realise that it is essential to learn systematically and practise a lot to become successful. They become aware of cultural differences.

Methods for verifying learning outcomes and assessment criteria
